EXPLORE THE CITY OF RICHMOND

Roadmap to Success is free, but space is limited.

Register by July 1.

printed on 100% post-consumer recycled paper

Theatre professor Dorothy Holland leads her Roadmap class in a physical warm-up before they begin a writing exercise. By the end of the three-day course, they had created performance pieces based on haikus.

Music professor Gene Anderson introduces the concept of polyrhythm to the students in his Rhythm and Blues Roadmap course taught with Mike Davison. The students created their own band and performed a self-penned tune, the Roadmap Blues, at the conclusion of the course.

Philosophy professor Geoff Goddu shares his knowledge of the martial arts with students in his Roadmap course, "I Know Kung Fu." They learned techniques from a variety of disciplines including aikido, jiu-jitsu, karate, and tai chi.

Roadmap to Success

BEGIN HERE

roadmap.richmond.edu

BEGIN HERE

Held four days before Orientation,

ROADMAP TO SUCCESS

is a pre-semester experience that allows first-year students to move in to their residence halls early, make connections with faculty and fellow students and best prepare to navigate the academic and social transition to college.

CONNECT TO

CAMPUS RESOURCES

Connect with programs and offices that exist to help you succeed.

EXPLORE RVA

Get out into the city.

Get to know FACULTY

Your short-course instructor will be your academic advisor.

TAKE A SHORT-COURSE

Experience a college class before the semester starts.

Get to know YOUR CLASSMATES

Social activities are planned throughout the experience and continue into the semester.

THREE CHOPT RD.

MONUMENT AVE.

BOATWRIGHT DR.

GROVE AVE.

UR DRIVE

RVA

COLLEGE RD.

UR

MAIN ST.

GATEWAY RD.

KELLER RD.

BROAD ST.

RIVER ROAD

RICHMOND WAY

CRENSHAW WAY

CARY ST.

ROADMAP TO SUCCESS IS FREE, BUT SPACE IS LIMITED. REGISTER BY JULY 1.